Wild Letters

A great way to start a visit to Chellington. On entering the centre, children will see 'Chellington' spelt in letters made from gathered wild materials. Why not make your own school's name for the duration of your stay? The children explore the site and/or wider surroundings to scavenge natural materials to create a series of letters which can be photographed by accompanying adults. Photos emailed to The Chellington Centre will be printed and mounted in the entrance way!

This activity allows children to really explore and observe their natural environment very closely, making discoveries about seasonal plants and signs of animal life. They will gain a sense of achievement and pride by creating their own welcome sign, connecting their place with ours!

This activity is free, comes with visual instructions for the children and is self-led.

Curriculum-Linked Activities

Key Stage 2: Anglo-Saxons meet the Vikings

The children step back in time to the 9th Century. The Vikings have travelled by longboat along the Great River Ouse. On the Danelaw/Wessex boundary, they find the Anglo-Saxon village at Chellington.

The activities start with an interactive session in the Ibbett Room where the group explores how we know what the local area around the Chellington Centre was like during the 9th Century.

The children become either Vikings or Anglo-Saxons and make their own helmets based upon historical and archaeological evidence. The children choose their shield and can decorate to personalise it, based upon artefacts from the period.

Warrior training out in the field introduces the children to the cries, commands and team work required to succeed in battle. The children choose their foam weaponry to complete their preparations and practise their formations and strategy.

Dressed and prepared, the children use drama to re-enact a battle down on the river meadow, based on the old English poem 'The Battle of Maldon'. Will the Viking raiders be victorious? Or will the Anglo-Saxons protect Chellington?

Children take their helmets home! All other resources are provided by the centre for use on the day.

This programme will normally cost £100 for self-led, but this year we are able to offer it for free because of the funding we have been given to develop educational resources.

Key Stage 2: Winding Rivers

Children can explore the physical geography of the local area and how this affects local people. They will develop an understanding of the characteristics of the river through practical fieldwork.

The activities start with a short session in the Ibbett Room to introduce them to the river and its affects on local people. Activities will focus on developing children's field sketching and OS map skills.

Children will visit the river and in groups explore the characteristics of river, including its flow and the material it carries, through simple practical fieldwork. This will involve them working together to use instruments to measure and record their observations.

This programme will normally cost £50 for all materials and is self-led, but this year we are able to offer it for free because of the funding we have been given to develop educational resources.

Up to an hour long briefing with our programme manager will help you deliver these as self-led programmes.

Key Stage 4: GCSE Geography River Fieldwork

Students can practice the fieldwork skills required to undertake an investigation of the physical and human characteristics of the Great Ouse at two points along its course, which are accessible on foot from the centre. Each is set up to follow the fieldwork enquiry process including hypothesis testing and sampling. Resources provided on pdf include an advisory risk assessment, site choice and walking route information and student fieldwork booklet.
